Dr. Chizobam Idahosa

The Oral Medicine Specialist

As a triple board-certified specialist in Oral Medicine, Orofacial Pain, and Lifestyle Medicine, Dr. Chizobam Idahosa understands the burden that orofacial pain and oral lesions can place on patients. She is a compassionate problem-solver who partners with her patients to find the answers they need to regain their quality of life.

Dr. Idahosa began her dental training at the University of Benin in Nigeria, where she received her BDS. Her training continued with earning her DDS at New York University College of Dentistry and her General Practice Residency training at Rutgers School of Dental Medicine.

She then pursued and completed her specialty training in Oral Medicine and her Master of Science in Oral Biology at the University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine. She is a Diplomate of the American Board of Oral Medicine, American Board of Orofacial Pain, and American College of Lifestyle Medicine, a member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon National Dental Honor Society, and a Fellow of the Academy of Dentistry International.

Dr. Idahosa is currently an Adjunct Associate Professor at the University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine. She was formerly at Temple University Kornberg School of Dentistry, where she taught and directed multiple courses for over seven years. She has lectured and published articles on various topics in Oral Medicine.

Dr. Idahosa has limited her private practice to the diagnosis and management of burning mouth syndrome, temporomandibular disorders, trigeminal neuralgias/neuropathies, oral mucosal disorders, oral oncology, premalignant lesions, oral complications of cancer therapy, oral infections, salivary gland disorders, and oral manifestations of systemic diseases.

Thank you in advance for your valued referral!
